MAKING WAVES TOGETHER

The One - Yacht and Design was on hand for an intriguing fringe event during Milan Design Week and the 54th edition of the Salone del Mobile. It was an event that brought together two historic leading names that, at first glance, may seem very different but which share a similar heritage. Pratesi has been making sublime cotton linens and buttery soft cashmere and merino wool blankets and coverlets for over a century, while the Viareggio-based Overmarine Group enjoys an international reputation in the high performance maxi open yachts sector with its 72' to 165' Mangustas. The truly singular exhibition staged in the Pratesi boutique on Via Manzoni featured models of a Mangusta 165 and a Mangusta 94 underway on a sea of Pratesi linens and comforters. What Pratesi and the Overmarine Group share, apart from sublimely sober elegance, is something very precious indeed: both are great symbols of Made in Italy excellence, an internationally-acknowledged guarantee of professionalism, craftsmanship and quality.
